MECH. ICT HALL

Every year, 8th March is celebrated as an 'International Women's Day'. This day is celebrated every year by remembering the struggle that women had fought for their rights and the injustice done to them.

Under the international women's day on march 8, 2018, a programme of women's development was organized by the volunteers of N.S.S. Unit of GEC, Palanpur in which the principal of the college Dr. K.B. Judal sir, college staff, all the volunteers of N.S.S. Unit, all the girl students and ladies of cleaning staff were present.

The program started at 11:30 am in which Mili Mevada welcomed everyone first. Then Mili talked about the importance of women in today's age and all the plans available to women were also discussed. She also talked about how much women's struggled and worked hard to reach man place in today's age.

After that principle of college Dr.K.B.Judal sir also talked about women's right, women's welfare and how women struggled. They gave the knowledge to all the girls about what to do to be an independent and self dependent.

After that, Rekhaben Chaudhary, a professor of the college gave a speech under the women's development. A college student Khushbu Aasanani talked about the women's rights and the problems faced by women. But she also mentioned that in today's world women have surpassed men.

Subsequently, the program co-ordinator of NSS unit Dr.C.G.Prajapati sir talked about women's development and thanked all those who were involved in the program.
